

GWVJ Education Foundation

SISTER KATEIRA HOGAN

MARKETING SPECIALIST AND SCHOLARSHIP LIAISON

Sister Kateira Hogan is a dedicated servant, committed to uplifting her community and empowering others through education, music, and faith. A member of Brookside Ministries Church of God in Christ, formerly known as Rimson Memorial COGIC, for the past 28 years, she has remained an active and influential presence in both her church and community. Over the years, she has embraced numerous roles, including serving as the director of her church's music department for the last seven years. Recently, she took on the role of vice president of the Greater West Virginia Jurisdiction (GWVJ) music department, contributing her expertise and leadership to the organization's musical initiatives.

Sister Kateira has also made a significant impact in the field of education, working for six years with the West Virginia State University (WVSU) Extension Services. There, she played a key role in providing science-based information to underserved communities, ensuring access to valuable resources that may otherwise be out of reach. Her dedication to improving the community's well-being continued when she became the Director of WVSU's Economic Development Center, where she brings innovative insights and strategies to enhance the economic standing of individuals and the community as a whole. Her work is focused on revitalizing the local area, offering creative solutions that foster both personal and collective growth.

In addition to her professional accomplishments, Sister Kateira is deeply committed to her church's mission. As the leader of the Children's Church Ministries, she teaches young children about God and the Bible in a fun, engaging, and accessible way, helping to lay a strong foundation of faith in their lives. Her devotion to her faith, her church, and her community drives her to continue making a positive impact wherever she can. Whether through music, education, or ministry, Sister Kateira Hogan exemplifies a life of service, leadership, and love for her community.

